1. A Change at the Top

The harsh winter has made resuming operations more difficult at the Henraux and Catino quarries. Everything is now on the shoulders of the indefatigable Michele and his Russia quarry, the largest and most important on Mount Altissimo, which has survived the winter and is still fully functional. But the material isn't enough...

2. Woman on the Mountain

Paolo has asked project manager Barbara, to personally handle the choice of material to be extracted, imposing new and different types of work on the quarrymen that wreaks havoc on the mountain men.

3. The Block - Saving Resin

Paolo Carli, grappling with the production problems of the Russia quarry, decides to experiment with an innovative technique, while at the Bresci quarry, Luca must deal with a block that is very difficult to cut. At the Gioia quarry, the Antonioli brothers deal with a huge 1000-ton block that risks getting stuck in mid-fall.

4. A Complicated Inspection

At Henraux, Barbara desperately attempts to prepare the pieces to be displayed for order 555, however, the material is unfortunately insufficient. At the Bresci quarry, Luca continues his search for the Versilys requested by Barbara, but the complex and risky block reveals no sign of the precious material in the end. Will Luca and Barbara stubbornly continue their search or will they decide to abandon the excavation site?

5. The Chickens Come Home to Roost

The men of Henraux are making the maximum effort to complete the company orders, without which the entire company would be in crisis. At the Russia quarry, Enrico is aided by the use of an innovative resin technique that will allow him to save more material from the blocks.

6. Together We Can Do It

The men of Henraux are in a showdown. The feared inspector of the 555 order is no longer willing to endure delivery delays. Luca is struggling with a gigantic Versilis block that could resolve Barbara's problems, while at Gioia quarry the Antonioli brothers risk everything in a never-before-attempted overturning operation.
