TALL GIRLS

60' (ENG, GER)

"I am one of those girls!", the filmmaker and producer of this documentary stands at 186 cm. It took her 5 years to make this film, and why is that?

The answer to this question is rooted in the discomfort experienced by women of above average height when having to discuss what for some is considered a huge flaw – their looming height. The internet is filled with young girls who despair over their growth and would do anything to make it stop. With this film we show how different life is as a tall woman.
