Vietnam - The World Won't Forget

The Vietnam War was one of the most brutal and bloodiest wars in history. From a distance the world took part. It was the first war in which shocking images were broadcast into the living rooms of the people. Our film tells the story of this war from the viewpoint of those who experienced it. On the one hand we follow the diary of a young North Vietnamese doctor who was murdered in 1970. At the same time, we allow contemporary witnesses to have their say. The film attempts to understand their motivation, their deeds, their feelings and their suffering.
