THE DEATH CLIMB

45' (GER, ENG subs)

What began as gruelling but fulfilling climbs to the top resulted in the premature ending of two lives.

Mario Bornschein, owner of an outdoor store in Berlin, sought to guide normal people on a hike up the Broad peak in Pakistan. An extreme sport enthusiast and photographer, Mike Fuchs, planned an expedition to Mount Mckinley in Alaska. For both, the climbs were supposed to be dream expeditions; however, instead they were both confronted with the death of a close comrade.
