GARDEN DREAMS

30' (GER)

A piece of nature, with flowers, vegetables and a cosy place to relax is the dream of many.

We visit the gardens of stately Villas by the lake, family gardens, roof terraces in the old town and natural and medicinal herb gardens. They all reflect the character of the owners who rave to us about their gardening: the political journalist in his elegant city garden, the author in her biotope full of wildflowers and insects, the couple and their New York church roof garden for socially disadvantaged people and refugees who create a piece of home with their gardens.
