45' (GER, ENG subs)

More and more wolves are being found in Europe. So, there has been a rise in unease and fear of the predators among civilians. But how dangerous are wolves to the human populous?

To find the answer, we dedicated two years to lurking in the habitat of the beasts of prey. Our film-takes and a variety of candidly caught videos have created a film that grants viewers a first-hand account of the private life of the wolf packs living in the heart of Europe.
