

PEOPLE . PLACES

CHILOÉ - WOODEN ISLAND

5 x 30' (SPA, ENG subs)

Fascinating architecture, picturesque wooden churches and a UNESCO World Heritage Site.

Chiloé is a unique archipelago at the coast of Chile in the Pacific Ocean. It is known for its extraordinary architecture where nearly all the houses and buildings were built with wood, and wooden shingles. The incredible wooden churches built in the 18th century by local carpenters are declared a UNESCO World Heritage Site. Carpenters, architects, artisans and inhabitants of Chiloé accompany us around the island. Follow us to the second largest island in Chile that lies parallel the Andes Mountains and discover a magical world of myths and legends, unique folklore and culinary traditions.

Original Title:	Chiloe
Year:	2018
Produced by:	Glaciar Films

